

Message from the Chairpersons

Dear Friends,

On behalf of the 2005 ASID Showcase House designers and committee members, I would like to thank the community of Sarasota for its continued support of Jewels on the Bay. This is a special year and marks our 10th anniversary.

Each year, Sarasota's foremost designers decorate a premier residence. When they're done, the doors are opened and the public is invited to experience the magic that they have created.

This year's Showhouse takes place in the wonderful neighborhood of Harbor Acres, one of the most desirable locations on the Gulf Coast. Originally built in the '50s, this home has a million-dollar view of Sarasota's bayfront, and its extensive remodel and addition make it a premier address for our Showhouse.

Throughout the years, the Showhouse has enriched the lives of thousands of children in our community through its support of the local Boys & Girls Club and all its many benefits.

This Sarasota tradition is made possible by the assistance and support of many people. I would like to extend my personal appreciation to Bobbie McGraw for her undying patience and support; SARASOTA Magazine; my design assistant, publicity and marketing chair, my daughter, Keffie Lancaster, whose artistic endeavors are invaluable; Robert Henry and William Tidmore for their vision 10 years ago to start the ASID Showhouse; Samuel Coward for years of program watercolors; Cheri Neary, my Showhouse assistant, and her community outreach program; Joe Angeleri for all of his patience in the construction of our Showhouse; and all of our sponsors, docents, and Showhouse committee members. Also, a very special thanks to Rob and Cindy Graham, the owners of this magnificent residence, for their support of our charities and for sharing their beautiful home.

It has been my honor and pleasure to serve as the 2005 ASID Showhouse Chair, and I look forward to a successful and exciting event.

Best Wishes,

Bonnie Lancaster
